

NCUA Insurance Coverage On Retirement Accounts

Under the NCUA's rules, up to $250,000 in deposit insurance will be provided for the money a member has in a variety of retirement accounts, primarily Traditional and Roth IRAs (Individual Retirement Accounts), at one insured credit union.

IRAs and other retirement accounts that will be protected up to $250,000 are insured separately from other accounts at the same credit union.

Important Facts to Remember About your Share Insurance at our Credit Union

Share accounts in federally insured credit unions are insured up to the Standard Maximum Share Insurance Amount (SMSIA), $250,000.

You may obtain additional separate coverage on multiple accounts, but only if you have different ownership interests or rights in different types of accounts. For example, if you have a regular share account and an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at the same credit union, the regular share account is insured up to $250,000 and the IRA is separately insured up to $250,000. However, if you have a regular share account, a share certificate, and a share draft account, all in your own name, you will not have additional coverage. Those accounts will be added together and insured up to $250,000 as your individual account.

Coverdell Education Saving Accounts, formerly education IRAs, are insured as irrevocable trust accounts and will be added to a member's other irrevocable trust accounts and insured up to the SMSIA. Roth IRAs will be added together with traditional IRAs and insured up to $250,000.

Additional coverage is available on revocable trust or payable on death accounts on a per beneficiary basis. A co-owner's interest in all joint accounts in the same credit union will be added together and insured up to the SMSIA.

NCUA Insurance Protection and What It Means For You

"Deposits Insured By NCUA." What does it mean for you?

Quite simply, it means peace of mind because your money is safe in an NCUA insured credit union.

NCUA – The National Credit Union Administration – is the federal agency that administers the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund (NCUSIF). The NCUSIF, like the FDIC's Deposit Insurance Fund, is a federal insurance fund backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. Government.

NCUA insurance offers an extra measure of protection for your money, whether it is held in share draft checking, savings or money market accounts, share certificates, a trust fund or an Individual Retirement Account.

And NCUA insurance is provided at no cost to you, the credit union member.

But the only fact you really need to remember is, not one dollar of NCUA – protected money has ever been lost by a credit union member.

So rest easy. Your money is safe – and working hard for you – with us. This NCUA symbol is your guarantee.

Note: This brochure is not a government publication and is intended only to show examples of insurance coverage on accounts commonly held by depositors of this institution.

If you have questions about NCUA coverage limits and requirements, please visit www.ncua.gov, call toll-free 800-755-1030, or ask a representative at your credit union.

This symbol insures the safety of your funds with us.

Not one dollar of NCUA protected money has ever been lost by a credit union member.
